

Founded in 1975, Dublin Business School (DBS) is Ireland's largest independent third-level college and provides a wide range of undergraduate, postgraduate, executive and professional programmes. The College is part of Kaplan Inc., the education division of The Graham Holdings Company and a leading international provider of higher education, professional development and lifelong learning programmes. As part of its continued development, DBS is now seeking two exceptional educational professionals with the capability, vision and leadership skills to help oversee the future direction of the College.

Head of Academic Programmes

Reporting to the Executive Dean, this role encompasses responsibility for the leadership, development and management of all academic programmes and will influence and inspire a strong ethos of service excellence, quality assurance and appropriate governance within the College.

Head of Quality Enhancement & Innovation in Teaching & Learning

Reporting to the Executive Dean, this role will lead the evolution of teaching delivery through the adoption of digital technology and the introduction of innovation to the learning environment to enhance the learning experience for all students and to further improve academic and employment outcomes.

Qualifications & Experience (both roles)

Qualified to Doctorate level or equivalent, or well advanced in Doctoral studies, candidates for both roles will possess a minimum of five years proven academic background as well as an established record of leadership and achievement at a senior level in a higher education environment.

Candidates will possess a strong appreciation of the requirements of a private educational institution as well as a passion for transforming how education is delivered. Excellent organisational, change management, customer service, and communication skills are a prerequisite for both of these roles.

These challenging roles provide the opportunity to work with one of the world's largest and most diverse education providers. Remuneration for these roles will reflect the seniority of the posts.
